CUBAN REVOLUTION APPARENTLY RESTING

VICE PRESIDENT CAPOTE IS SAID TO BE IN LEAGUE WITH THE REVOLUTIONISTS.

Special to the Herald.

Havana, Cuba, Aug. 27.—The Cuban revolution is apparently resting. The lull is explained by the statement that the insurgents are resisting with forces large enough to force the government to come to terms regarding the nullification of the former elections without resorting to open conflict. The insurgents are waiting for the government to move.

The city is still stirred over the rumor of a disagreement between President Palma and Vice President Capote, Palma believing that the vice president is implicated in the conspiracy to force his resignation. No fighting is reported this morning.

Special to the Herald.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 27.—Reports from all sections of the state indicate that today's primary is proceeding quietly with the prospects of an unusually heavy vote. Upon the result of the primary depends the choice for governor and other state officers, representatives in congress, the successors of Senators Pettus and Morgan and two "alternate" senators. Supporters of both Comer and Cunningham, the rival candidates for the governorship, express confidence in the outcome. Much interest centers in the senatorial contest, in which there is a large field of entries.

SWEPT BY A FLOOD.

Mazatlan, Mexico, Visited By a Disastrous Cloudburst.

Special to the Herald.

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 26.—Mazatlan, Mexico, according to mail advices received here tonight, has been swept by a terrible flood as a result of a cloudburst and great damage has resulted.

Mazatlan is on the coast in the state of Sinaloa and was the scene of the bubonic plague two years ago. It has 20,000 inhabitants and hundreds are said to be homeless.

The rains fell heavily between August 15 and 19 and the floods resulted during that period.

The greatest damage was the destruction of water mains, bringing water from the mountains ten miles away, and resulting in the water famine. The poorer classes all had their houses swept away, as they lived in unplastered huts.

All the houses along the beach were completely wrecked and swept into the river. The city is feeding hundreds of unfortunates and the government has been asked for aid.

The big boulevard connecting the city with the sea was swept away.

The Somelerra family, conducting a mammoth mercantile business, had their places wrecked and stocks destroyed, while the Compania Industrial and Agricola, whose shoe factory gave employment to hundreds, is in ruins.

The German Casino, the female ward of the jail and the slaughter house are among the other buildings destroyed.

The city always suffers from heavy rains during the rainy season, but this is said to be the worst disaster in its history.

DYNAMITED A HOME.

Residence of Mrs. Mary Freeman at Corsicana Was Attacked.

Corsicana, Texas, Aug. 26.—The residence of Mrs. Mary Freeman in East Corsicana, was dynamited last night and badly wrecked, but no one was injured. The residence is an L-shaped cottage of five rooms and the dynamite was placed under the parlor, near a window and directly under one end of the piano. The explosion is thought to have occurred at 2:10 a. m., as the clock stopped at that time. There was an immense report and the house was badly damaged. Two of the windows under which the explosion occurred had every particle of glass broken out and a hole was torn in the floor about four feet square and through this one end of the piano fell and the instrument was badly damaged.

Mrs. Freeman was sleeping in a room across a hall and a large wardrobe in her room was thrown on the floor and glassware was broken in every room in the house. Bloodhounds were taken to the scene soon after the explosion, but there is no clue. Dick Henderson and Claude Young, the former a son and the latter a nephew of Mrs. Freeman, were sleeping in a rear room at the time.

IN GUARD HOUSE.

Negro Soldiers Are Held Pending the Investigation.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 26.—The twelve negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry who were brought to San Antonio Saturday and incarcerated in the guard house at Fort Sam Houston, are still here, pending the service of the proper process to remove them to Brownsville for trial. Everything is quiet, and no trouble is expected. The post is supplied with a heavy guard that was brought from Camp Mabry to reinforce its depleted strength. It is probable that United States District Attorney Charles A. Boynton will complete his investigation of the case at Brownsville by the last of this week, and that a change of venue will be asked to the district court of Bexar county.
